

DWTickets Launches DW Savers to Deliver Discount Disney Tickets

After receiving countless feedback emails from online customers, DWTickets announces the launch of DW Savers - a free opt-in club where members receive monthly newsletters that contain coupon codes, Orlando travel tips, as well as news and information regarding Orlando attractions.

(PRWeb) November 9, 2007 -- After receiving countless feedback emails from online customers, DWTickets announces the launch of DW Savers - a free opt-in club where members receive monthly newsletters that contain coupon codes, Orlando travel tips, as well as news and information regarding Orlando attractions.

The inspiration for DW Savers came directly from past customers, recalled Michael Scolamiero, founder and President of DWTickets. "We were fulfilling hundreds of orders everyday where our customers were looking for more than just the tickets they ordered. People wanted to know if anything special would be happening during their visit, or if there was any news about new rides, or which parks would be open late and presenting fireworks displays," Scolamiero said. "DW Savers was born from these requests, and it has quickly become our vehicle to deliver these additional services to our customers and subscribers."

Key features of DW Savers include:

Special Discounts: Coupon code that enables additional discounts on select tickets to Walt Disney World and other Orlando based attractions.

Travel Tips: Relaying information regarding special events and unique park hours pertaining to the upcoming weeks.

DW Blog: Delivering brief synopses and links to all blog entries posted since the previous newsletter was broadcasted.

DW Savers was released in beta form a couple of months ago. Even with this limited exposure thus far, the club has already accumulated over 7,000 subscribers.
